Megamind - Election Campaign & Management Services

Megamind Infotech (I) Private Limited was formed in 2005 by highly skilled individuals with plenty of professional and practical knowledge. In 2015, a group of experienced people decided to manage and campaign for candidate contesting. We had the chance to work with lots of candidates and were successful in achieving their goals.

We specialize in effective campaign and management powered by cutting-edge technology, a crucial factor for candidates striving to stay ahead in elections. Megamind provides comprehensive election campaign services and precise management using state-of-the-art technology.

Politics is a game in which the main players are popular leaders, who are granted huge powers after winning the election in a democracy and can make or destroy a lot in their governance. In the past, elections were held according to the image of political leaders at the grassroots level, and politicians traveled across the constituency in search of votes. The tactics of election campaigns have changed over the years, including but not limited to political rallies, road shows, and sloganeering. Today, political campaigns and politicians' online presence play an important role in gaining the public's trust and their votes.

A comprehensive campaign and effective management using the latest technology are essential for any candidate to stay at the forefront during the elections. Megamind is among the most effectual companies for managing and running political campaigns because it adopts the most efficient methods to meet the demands of politicians who want to be recognized in the eyes of the public for their noble goals. Though traditional methods of political campaigns, whilst useful, today we need massive changes to develop an effective strategy for election campaigns.

Megamind has the brilliance and expertise to accelerate your Political and Social presence. We are a reliable Election Campaign Management Company oriented towards satisfactory outcomes. You can trust our effective strategy, resources, techniques and solutions for running successful Electoral Campaigns. We will convey your vision, thoughts, policies, objectives and accomplishments to every citizen and voter of the area at the proper time through different mediums; with our remarkable strategies and solutions, we can assure you that your chances of winning the elections will thrive.

Gaining the voter's trust is among the most challenging tasks for politicians or political parties. It would be best that you thoroughly examined the needs of the area's population and pledged to make improvements. Studying the region is crucial since a pledge to eliminate poverty is pointless in a luxurious area. In the same way, making promises to reduce global warming doesn't appeal to the slum population. The Megamind team will thoroughly study the region to discover the loopholes hindering you from winning.

To gauge the mood of voters and ensure the broad reach of the candidate, we offer Door-to-Door promotion. We will also ensure that the appeals, handbills, text messages, WhatsApp messages, videos, voice calls, phone calls, etcetera reach every voter and citizen within the constituency personally and digitally that the image and reputation of the candidate can be established.

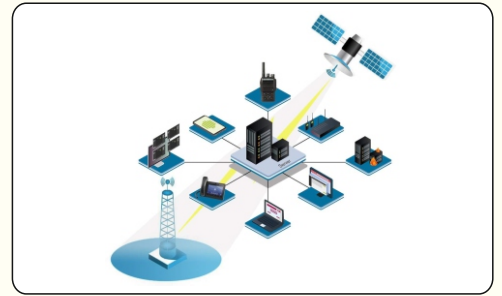

The MEGAMIND team works using the power of visionary thinking. The team helps the candidate set a citizen-centric agenda, take it to the public and mobilize public support. Various methods are used by us so that you and your political party can achieve unparalleled fame and reputation in the area and win the elections with massive votes.

BRIEF OF SERVICES

Megamind's team of experts equipped with the latest technology directly contacts residents and voters in the area; they solicit their views by talking to them about various issues concerning the candidate and political party. The expert team studies the mood of voters seriously, identifies the negative and positive areas towards candidates, and does our best to make the negative areas positive by working until the last moment with an appropriate strategy.

The team will run registration drives, review the voter's lists, collect the details of the voters, i.e. their mobile number, WhatsApp number, email IDs, Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter (X) social media accounts, etcetera and forward to control room immediately.

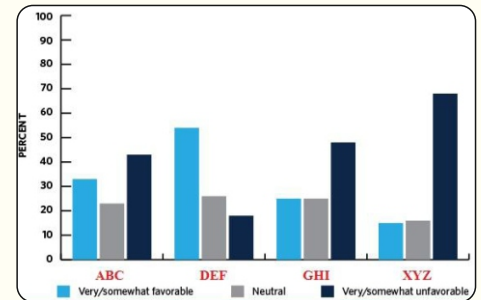

Digital promotion of the candidate on every mobile number sent by the team to the control room is started immediately by the automatic system after their approval, such as digital posters, audio, video, WhatsApp, SMS, voice calls, phone calls, etc.

The ideas, vision, and objectives of the candidate during or before the elections will be conveyed to every voter and citizen in the constituency personally and digitally. Artificial Intelligence will also be used.

We will prepare a grassroots survey report according to the opinions of voters and the public, which will be given to the candidate and their team area-wise from time to time.

The grassroots political survey is one of the major parts of our service, which is done with all the services. Based on the survey report, the candidate, his/her supporters and volunteers can change their strategy and make a new strategy for the election result in their favour.

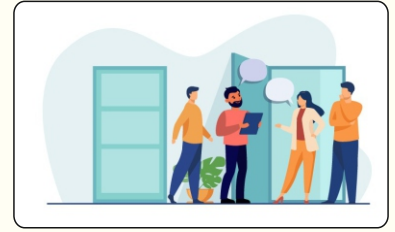

Since professional election campaigns are very effective, having experienced professionals campaign and manage your election helps you ensure a successful electoral outcome.

People begin to believe they are emotionally associated with the party/candidate. Thus, they start working for the same, which can be an unstoppable mass movement during elections.

Reputation & Image Building

The public image of a candidate determines whether he wins or loses an election. Oppositions are always trying to malign the image of their opponents. We observe the communication used against our client and counter it using all the media, including social media, with even more powerful factual communication so that the good image of our client remains intact.

We regularly publicize the candidate's affirmative vision, objectives, achievements, etc. to establish a good image and credibility among the public.

Social Media Campaign

A very significant aspect of political campaigns is social media promotion. Today, social media has become the most efficient platform for connecting with the public. Megamind runs top-notch social media campaigns that build reliable relationships between candidates and voters.

Digital Promotion

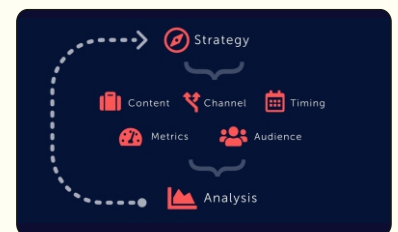

Digital media campaigns are the most powerful tool used in political campaigns. During the election, Megamind continuously works to transmit the candidate's thoughts, vision and objectives to every voter and the general public using electronic media, social media, text messages, WhatsApp messages, voice calls, etc.

Content & Communications Strategy

A good communication strategy and to the point creative communication done effectively is one of the biggest success factors for a politician. To arrive at the best communication, we do in-depth research on the existing political equation, social equation, policies, welfare schemes, development scenario, demographic mix, etc. We then prepare communication that is easy to understand, catchy, has good slogans, dialogues, etc.

Our content experts prepare a communication strategy that takes care of people living in villages and cities. A detailed plan will be prepared, including social media, door-to-door communication, speeches, etc. We ensure the use of the right words and phrases in both political speeches and campaign rallies, as well as in online blogs, web pages, and digital social media posts.

From your promotional layouts to making campaign materials stand out, our designs are meticulously crafted to captivate and inspire. We create creative digital posters, banners, and videos for our clients' campaigns that attract maximum attention and go viral on digital media.

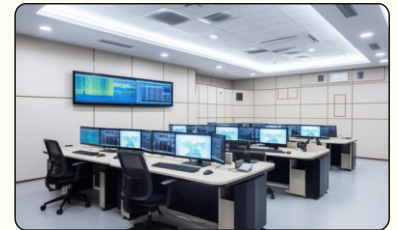

Manifesto Creation

A poll manifesto is promise and commitment given in writing to the electorate that you will do work in the interest of the public if you are elected. An election manifesto that addresses the core issues of the majority population brings a certain victory. But to create that black-and-white document, thorough research is the only solution. Our experienced team of professionals conducts regular research on public issues and helps in drafting an ideal manifesto.

War Room

During the election, the war room is generally imperative. The war room, catching and cautioning every media movement, enables the battle to settle on options and act immediately upon exposure or opportunity. The war room's extensive range of services includes close monitoring of the voters, strategy formulation, management and monitoring of rallies, social media management, planning and management of the political campaign, analysis of voter turnout and reactions, etc.

Our representatives regularly monitor the promotional programs of clients and competitors, prepare detailed reports and send it to headquarters, where experts formulate further strategies based on the inputs. The campaign is maximized by ensuring synchronous work between the workers and the team of the Megamind as well as educating them about the strategy and their role.

We carefully select a team of booth agents and workers, comprising both male and female, at each booth to campaign for the candidate among the voters who are trained and motivated to make the nominated candidate win. We give them information about the achievements, successes, etc. of the candidate/party so that they can effectively communicate with the voters on door-to-door visits and convince them to vote in favor of our candidate.

Increase Voter Turnout

We try our best to convince every voter in favour of the candidate and encourage them to vote. The day before the polls, the team travels door to door and requests that every voter cast their vote.
